

What do pupils say about GCSE French / German?

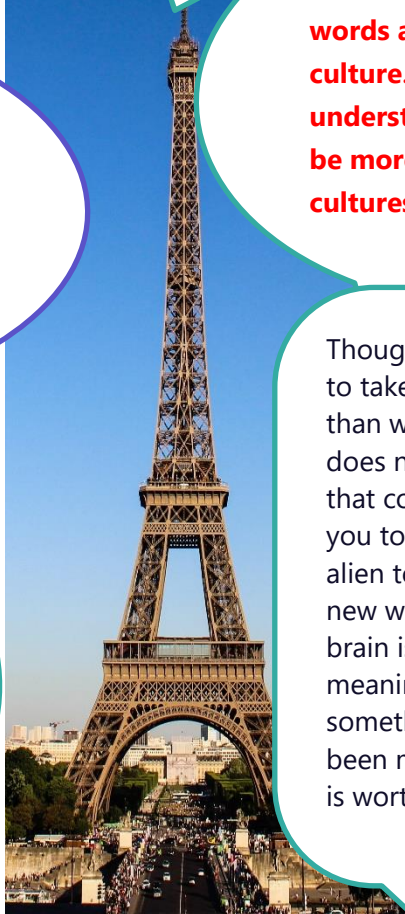

French was one of my favourite subjects and I am hoping to take it for A-Levels - so as long as you learn your vocabulary, you will probably enjoy it as much as I did.

Learning a new language is an exercise in discovering your own skills. It helps break down the barrier in the multi-cultural world by speaking with people in their own language, accepting their language and culture.

I enjoyed learning French and about a different culture and I had a great teacher.

I liked that we learned new words and learned about the culture. It has helped me to understand new things and be more open about different cultures.

Though German is hardly the easiest option to take, I can definitely say that it is more than worth it. Learning another language does not mean you're ever going to live in that country, but what it does do is force you to do something that is really new and alien to most of us. Thinking in a totally new way and realizing how incredible the brain is when you begin to find the meanings of words and understand something that previously would have been meaningless. So, take the challenge. It is worth it!

More quotes from pupils.....

I have enjoyed studying German over the past 2 years, it was a great opportunity to learn something new and different. My experience of German has been fun and challenging, which made me want to learn more about the subject! If you take German, then it is a great way to learn a new language!

I have enjoyed learning a language, as it has not only taught me how to speak the language, but also about the culture. It has also given me lots of opportunities, which without a language, I would not have.

I like learning German because it opens up a wide variety of opportunities. I also like learning German because it enables me to speak

What I enjoyed about GCSE French: 1).
Enjoyed learning another language.

2). Enjoyed learning using the learning mat.
